\copy ⟨register⟩

This command produces a copy of box register ⟨register⟩. This command is useful when you want to retrieve the contents of a box register but don't want to destroy the contents. (Retrieving the register contents with \box makes the register void.)

Example:
```
\setbox0 = \hbox{good }
Have a \copy0 \box0 \box0 day!
```
produces:
    Have a good good day!
